Get in on the PROFITS in SMALL ENGINE service and repair Start your own money

BEAT INFLATION!

Cash in on the huge demand for small engine repair.

Work part time, full time right at home - we help you every step of the way.

making business!

In just a short time, you can be ready to join one of the fastest growing industries in America...an industry where qualified men are making from $10.00 to $15.00 per hour...and that's just for labor. Parts, engines and accessories add even more to the profits.

Because the small engine industry has grown so quickly, an acute shortage of qualified Small Engine Professionals exists throughout the country. In fact, it's not unusual for a good small engine man to be three to four weeks behind in the summer and at least a week behind in the winter. When you see how many small engines are in use today, it's easy to understand why qualified men command such high prices—as much as $17.50 for a simple tune-up that takes less than an hour!

46-million small engines are in service today!

That's right—there are over forty-six million 2-cycle and 4-cycle small engines in service across the U.S.A. That's the official count from the Engine Service Assn., and new engines are being built at a rate of one-million per month! With fully accredited and approved Belsaw training, you can soon have the skill and knowledge to make top money servicing these engines. Homeowners and businessmen will seek you out and pay you well to service and repair their lawnmowers, tillers, edgers, power rakes, garden tractors, chain saws, mini-bikes, go-carts, snowmobiles, generators, snowblowers, paint sprayers...the list is almost endless.

No experience necessary.

You don't need to be a 'born mechanic' or have prior experience. If you can read, you can master this profitable trade right at home, in your sparetime, without missing a single paycheck. Lessons are fully illustrated—so clear you can't go wrong.

You receive trade secrets and business plans.

We guide you every step of the way, including tested and proven instructions on how to get business, what to charge, how to get free advertising, where to get supplies wholesale...all the "tricks of the trade"...all the inside facts you need to assure success right from the start.

Increased Income

"I've had about 8 years experience repairing small engines... but repairs were only minor... until I started the Belsaw Course."

Walter H. Strick Campbell, California

With our famous 'learn-by-doing' training method, you get practical 'hands-on' experience with specialized tools and equipment that you'll receive with your training plus a brand-new 4 HP engine—all yours to keep!

SEND FOR FREE FACTS!

You risk nothing by accepting this offer to find out how Belsaw training can give you the skills you need to increase your income in a high-profit, recession-proof business of your own.

Hair Growth is Possible

Scientists experimenting with substances to aid hair growth report success.

9 out of 10 balding men stop abnormal hair loss in 6 to 8 weeks.

Actual un-retouched photographs by an independent photo studio of a test subject before and after using a Hair & Scalp Specialists product.

Men and women suffering from problems with hair loss and balding are ecstatic over their results with the use of a scientifically developed formula to aid in the revival of dormant hair.

Professional, health and medical publications have also reported on the successful results with substances that can not only stop dandruff and hair loss but have actually aided in regrowing hair.

One recently reported test with 600 men, one hundred of whom were practicing doctors, revealed the following fantastic results:

About 9 out of 10 patients diagnosed as suffering from hereditary baldness stopped abnormal hair loss within 6 to 8 weeks after using an applied solution.

Further reports state that MOST of the test subjects GREW NEW HAIR.

The new hair was described as hair naturally colored, of substantial density, and at least three quarters of an inch long.

These fantastic new breakthroughs give new hope not only to those who are beginning to lose their hair—but also to those who have had hair loss problems for longer periods of time.

Solving The Problems

In the past the problems in dealing with hair loss, appear to have been three-fold.

FIRST—insufficient scientific research.

SECOND—a failure in recognizing that different individuals can have different causes for their hair problems and therefore, may require different solutions.

THIRD—a lack of combining the various ingredients documented to be beneficial for healthy hair growth into one applicable form.

Two New Solutions

Based on the research reports and the written conclusions of experts in the field of hair care, the Hair &

Scalp Product Specialists have made available to the general public—with no prescription necessary—two products that contain in high potency amounts several ingredients reported to be of benefit for various problems with hair and scalp.

These problems include dandruff, thinning or excessive hair loss and balding.

Why Two Products?

The above mentioned reports state conclusively that there is MORE THAN ONE CAUSE for the problems of hair and scalp.

Therefore individual hair and scalp problems can require MORE THAN ONE SOLUTION.

The First Product

PRODUCT NO. 1 is applied to the scalp on a regular basis before shampooing.

It contains an ingredient reported to help STOP itchiness, oiliness and dandruff due to sebum deposits as well as help fight irritating scalp bacteria when used on a regular basis.

It has been reported to stimulate blood circulation and help STOP excessive hair loss due to sebum. In other words, this first product has been designed to aid in creating a more favorable condition where-in hair follicles can grow and regenerate at a healthy pace.

The Second Product

PRODUCT NO. 2 is applied directly to the thinning or bald areas of the scalp.

It contains the ingredients reported to STOP abnormal hair loss within 6 to 8 weeks in about 90% of the patients diagnosed as suffering from hereditary baldness—and—when applied daily GREW NEW HAIR on MOST of the test subjects within a matter of months.

A Combination of Ingredients For A Combination of Problems

The hair and scalp specialists' products are not baldness elixirs or magic cures.

What they are is scientifically formulated products combining NUMEROUS ingredients, including BIOTIN, that have been reported through doctor tested research to be effective in cases with problems of hair loss and balding.

When used together on a regular basis the products were designed to contain ingredients reported to:

- ① Help STOP itchiness, oiliness, and dandruff caused by excessive sebum—
- ② To help STOP sebum produced excessive hair loss—
- ③ STOP abnormal hair loss in up to 90% of the individuals tested WITHIN 6 TO 8 WEEKS—and—
- ④ Help GROW NEW HAIR on MOST of the individuals diagnosed as suffering from hereditary baldness within a matter of months.

If you have excessive hair loss, thinning or balding due to testosterone accumulation,

If androgen is causing your hair roots to lay dormant, and you want to give them a chance for revival,

The Hair & Scalp Product Specialists have an answer—just fill in the order form today or call now for Master Charge and Visa Card orders at (603) 668-3451.

TAMPA, FL—In a surprise move, the NWA named Manny Fernandez number one contender to champion Harley Race.

Citing Fernandez's continued improvement and willingness to meet any and all opponents, the NWA seemed to slight Dusty Rhodes. At least Rhodes thinks so.

"Nothing against Fernandez," said Dusty, "he's a fine wrestler. But I think I deserve that position. What can I do? I'll just have to wrestle that much harder."

If you're into fitness, Bullworker® puts it all together in only 5 minutes a day:

"Looking for a fitness program that's fast, easy and gets results right away?," asks fitness expert, Bob Breton. "Bullworker puts it all together. In just 5 minutes a day you can give your body a complete fitness workout: shoulders, back, arms, chest, abdomen and legs.

It's fast: each exercise takes only 7 seconds, once a day.

It's easy: any man between 15 and 65 in good general health can run through the whole program without getting tired.

You see your progress right from the very first day on the built-in Powermeter gauge. After two to three weeks of training, most men can expect to measure an extra inch or two of muscle on their shoulders, chest and biceps—and an inch or two less flab around the middle.

And that's just the start: there are specialized exercises for building-up or trimming down any part of your body you want to. What's more, since Bullworker training is progressive, you perform better each time. Yet the training always seems easy since with every workout your strength increases by about 1%—that's an increase of up to 50% in the first three months.

"I earn my living by keeping executives in top shape," says Bob. "My customers want results and they want them fast. I recommend Bullworker for one reason only: because it's the most advanced fitness trainer on the market & you better believe it."

AUSTIN IDOL EASILY recalls that momentous decision.

"I'd finished beatin' up on Tommy Rich. Naturally, the match took a few minutes," said Idol, propping both feet upon the desk. "As I walked down the aisle, fans shouted things at me.

"Hell, I've heard 'em all 10 times over and there shouldn't have been any reason for me to be bothered by it. But the old cliché of the straw breaking the camel's back, well, maybe this one night of booing hurt me more than ever. Got me to thinking."

Idol poured a glass of diet soda.

WRESTLER OF THE MONTH

The referee asks Harley Race if he would like to submit to Idol's figure four leglock (above). Race fouled to escape the hold and retain his NWA title. Idol shouts to his fans as he prepares to piledrive Race (below).

"I reviewed what I was doin' and where I wanted to go. Any rule-breaker who says fan boos don't bother him is a ball-faced liar," said Idol, face reddening. "You can say fans mean chicken feathers all you want, but that's just not the truth."

"You hear 'em. Oh boy, do you ever hear 'em. You hear the children screaming stuff and the little girls glaring at you when you return to the dressing room. More than that, you feel their hate. Nothin' pleasant about hate."

Idol sipped the soda and changed the record, dropping a Willie Nelson album onto the turntable.

"I'm not turnin' into a saint or something. Hell, that's kinda tough," said Idol, grinning. "But I care what fans say and think. I'll tell you, they've surprised me. All this time I thought a bunch of retards bought tickets. Not so. Those fans are sharp and give me some real solid advice."

Austin Idol, fan favorite.

"Has a nice ring to it, huh?" Idol smiled, shaking his head. "Yeah, a real nice ring."

Idol's change encounters anger and skepticism from all quarters of Georgia wrestling.

"That gutless creep couldn't handle the violence," growled Baron Von Raschke, Idol's former tag team partner. "Anyone with guts wrestles the real man's way. Now Idol can be a puny wimp like Rich and II."

Can't wait to wrestle him," said Mark Lewin. "I'll scalp him and hang his hair from my belt."

Understandably, scientific wrestlers offered caution and wariness.

"I've had my troubles with Idol. I'm always glad to see someone wake up, but, well, you gotta understand I can't change my opinion of someone in an hour," said Rich.

"Austin Idol possesses great talent and I'm glad to hear he's decided to wrestle as a scientific wrestler," said Tim "Mr. Wrestling" Woods. "Let's see how long this lasts."

Daring to change, to improve oneself reveals courage and character. The editors of SPORTS REVIEW WRESTLING never thought they'd use such words to describe Idol. But we are pleased to recognize his tough decision and award him "Wrestler of the Month."

"Come on, give the kid a chance," said Mr. Wrestling II. "So he's made mistakes. We all make mistakes. Give him a break and let him work this out. Who knows, this could shoot Idol right to the top." □

LUCKY TO BE THERE

I would like to thank your magazine for its coverage of the "Greatest Tag Team Tournament in History" (July/1980). I was one of the lucky ones able to witness that great day. It was surely the greatest tournament in wrestling history. I'm very happy to relive that day from the photo by Roger Deem. Again, thanks.

GOOD FOR THEM!

So often, wrestling officials fail to support the good, clean matches which are the basis of all wrestling. But "The Title Match the NWA Refused to Sanction" (August/1980) showed otherwise and demonstrated true courage on the part of the NWA officials.

BOB BACKLUND—CHAMPION

The best wrestler in the WWF is Bob Backlund. He's a great wrestler in every respect. He has poise, talent, quickness, confidence, and strength. He doesn't brag like Ken Patera and Hulk Hogan. He's a champion inside the ring and out.

And he's a great personality. He's a scientific wrestler, but when his opponent starts using horrible tactics, Backlund can dish it out just as hard.

Backlund's held the belt for over two years and I think he'll hold the belt for many years to come. Backlund never quits until the referee raises his hand for victory. When I see the champion's hand raised in triumph, I think, "There's a real champion."

Bob takes pride in his work and earns every cent he makes. By now, Backlund has faced every rulebreaker around and gave them matches they'll remember for years to come.

KEVIN SKUPENSKI
Lower Burrell, Pa.

Mia Bishop feels that scientific matches are the backbone of the sport and that the NWA should do all it can to support clean wrestlers.

Lou Thesz has a lot of class, just the opposite of Harley Race, who'll slither and snivel out of any tough situation like the gutless coward all the world knows him to be.

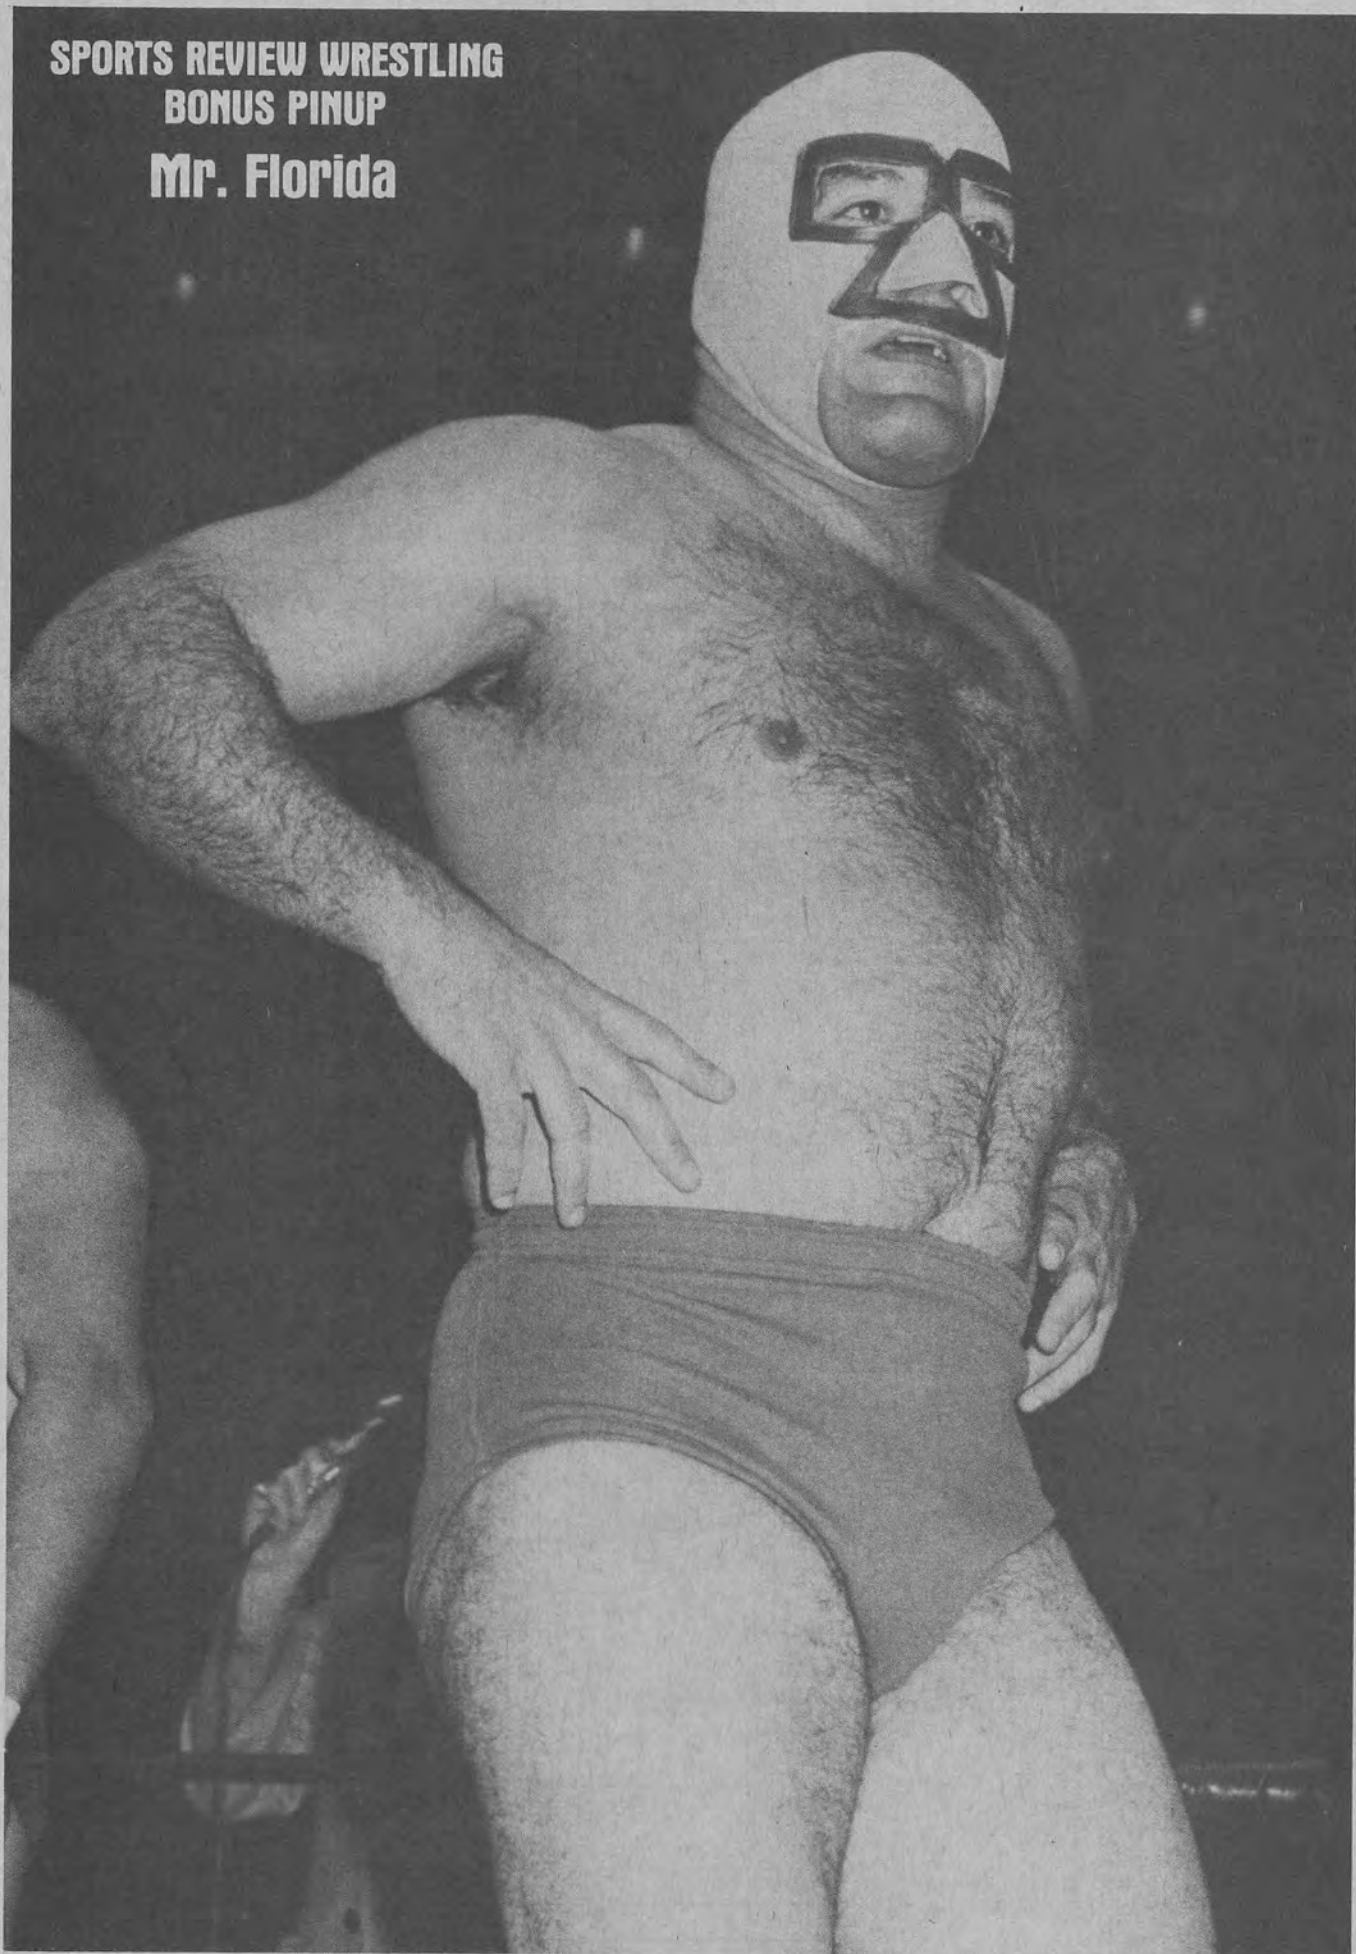

Tony Atlas deserves fair treatment because he treats all his foes fairly. My faith in wrestling has been restored.

MIA BISHOP
Kew Gardens, NY

Bob Backlund is a champion both in and out of the ring, writes Kevin Skupenski. Kevin believes Backlund will hold the belt for a long time.

The Outlaws 10 years ago (above) and The Outlaws today (right). Reader Alex Cleary was glad to see Dick Murdoch and Dusty Rhodes reunite.

ALBANO'S A JOKE

That fat overblown balloon Lou Albano gives me some of my real good laughs. That slob is such a joke he makes intelligent men like Arnold Skoaland appear true geniuses by comparison.

"Your article, "Lou Albano: More Savage Than The Samoans" (August/1980), didn't persuade me that Albano is anything more than a big mouth. No way in the world he could be as ferocious as The Samoans. Those guys are almost cannibals. Albano still needs salt and ketchup to eat his glasses.

SCRAPBOOK A GREAT FEATURE

Your featured column "Scrapbook" really thrills and fascinates me. I genuinely look forward to this return to the glory moments in professional wrestling every time I buy a copy of SPORTS REVIEW WRESTLING.

Only a publishing company with your exhaustive resources and tireless writers could produce such an excellent, informative, and entertaining column. Once again, I'm convinced your magazines rank number one and all the rest are clustered around the number three slot.

HURRAH FOR THE OUTLAWS

One of the saddest days of my wrestling fan life occurred when Dick Murdoch and Dusty Rhodes dissolved their terrific tag team, The Outlaws. I understand why they had to disband. Individual ambitions sometime take over in a tag team, but it was good they were able to part friends.

Reuniting The Outlaws gave fans as much pleasure as it did Rhodes and Murdoch. There'll always be a place in America for teams like The Outlaws, men who live and die by their fists.

YOUR QUESTION

Do you have a question which concerns all of wrestling? Each month in SPORTS REVIEW WRESTLING, the sport's top superstars will answer a question sent in by a reader. If you wish to have your question answered by the wrestlers, send it to:

ASK THE STARS

The "Question of the Month" is:

"If you hadn't gone into wrestling, what profession would you have chosen?"

Submitted by:
Steve Ledner;
Northport,
New York

NICK BOCKWINKEL

"Well, I could have done many things. A man of my immense skills and genius would have no trouble succeeding in any field as I've succeeded in wrestling. But if I had to take one profession, I'd take brain surgeon. Only a genius could successfully operate on brains."

TOMMY RICH

"When I was a little tyke, I always wanted to be a singer. Yeah, that'd be real neat, getting up on stage and kinda strumming the guitar, singing a nice ballad and suddenly wailing away and chugging on some real fine rock song. Yeah, a singer."

FRED BLASSIE

"President of the United States, nothing more and nothing less. With my dashing looks and sexy voice and elegant appearance and brilliant mind, well, only a pencil-neck geek would dare not vote for me. I'd turn this country around so fast there'd be 30 million dizzy spells."

CAPTAIN LOU ALBANO

"I'd be a four-star general in the United States Army. The military needs great, brave men like me without fear, men who risk their lives and dare to risk and laugh at death for the sake of glory. I would lead men into combat without blinking an eye."

RS ANSWER OF THE MONTH

MR. WRESTLING II

"The restaurant business has always appealed to me for a number of reasons. First of all, I'd deal with people and I love people. Serving people gives a man great satisfaction. And I'm a big nutrition nut. Good food can make a big difference in the mental outlook. And I'd serve fine food."

AUSTIN IDOL

"A sex symbol. Which I already am. Dig? But I coulda been a movie star, the idol of millions of screaming fans wantin' nothin' better than to tear my clothes offa me. Hell, I coulda been the next Bogart or Redford. And I'm better looking than any of those turkeys, dig?"

BRUNO SAMMARTINO

"You know, I love children. Maybe I could have been a teacher, a gym teacher or maybe even an English teacher. I love a good book. Doggone, I read Moby Dick 11 times and would love to share that with little children."

HARLEY RACE

"I don't know. It'd have to be something with my hands. Thinking about it, maybe I could've been a carpenter or even an architect. I love building. In my spare time, I like to putter around the house and stain furniture. I'll tell you, staining wood gives me a thrill."

RICK STEAMBOAT

"I think pro football would be interesting. I was always good in sports and could have been a real good linebacker. Nothing like smacking the ballcarrier to the ground or intercepting a pass to give you a good feeling. Almost as good as smashing Greg Valentine to the mat."

BOB BACKLUND

"If I hadn't gone into wrestling, I'd probably be an optometrist. Eyes fascinate me. I'll never forget how amazed I was during my first eye test, the whole principle of correcting defective eyes. Plus I'd be doing good things for people."

COLLECTOR'S CORNER

WRESTLING MAGAZINE

It was simply titled "WRESTLING." And it was the first serious attempt to establish a magazine devoted entirely to professional wrestling which had a regular frequency and a world-wide distribution. ## AUGUST 1965

Bruno Sammartino downed Dr. Bill Miller in 48 seconds at Madison Square Garden and cleared $35,000 in a winner-take-all match. Sammartino, angered by an altercation with Miller a week earlier in which the two exchanged blows, jumped Miller from behind as the opening bell sounded and won with a crunching bear-hug. Later, in the dressing room, a dejected Miller said:

Bill Miller turns his back on Bruno Sammartino as the bell rings—a move that would cost him the match.

"I'll never turn my back on him again. Next time we meet, there'll be no referee and no holds barred." . . . Crusher defeated Mad Dog Vachon in St. Paul, Minnesota, to win the AWA championship. Mad Dog reigned as champion only three months after defeating Mighty Igor in May . . . Young Tim Woods thrilled AWA fans with his high-flying aggressive style . . . Ray Gunkle made a strong challenge for Lou Thesz's NWA title, but came up short . . . Haystacks Calhoun began making plans for an extended tour of Japan. "I never had so much fun in my life as I did while I was in Tokyo last year," the 600-pounder said. "It doesn't make any difference to them whether a man is Japanese, Chinese, Russian, or American, as long as he is a talented athlete." . . . The WWF shelled out $10,000 to replace Bruno Sammartino's diamond-studded championship belt that was stolen from his car while he dined in New York City. RATINGS: 1-Lou Thesz; 2-Bruno Sammartino; 3-Crusher; 4-Bill Watts; 5-Johnny Powers; 6-Johnny Valentine; 7-Fritz Von Erich; 8-Waldo Von Erich; 9-Eddie Graham; 10-Bruiser. TAG TEAMS: 1-Ray Stevens & Pat Patterson; 2-Aldo Bogni & Bronco Lubich; 3-The Von Brauners; 4-The Assassins; 5-Bill Watts & Gorilla Monsoon; 6-George & Sandy Scott; 7-Don Leo Jonathan & Jim Hady; 8-John Henning & Pat O'Connor; 9-Pepper Gomez & Ricky Romero; 10-Larry Hennig & Harley Race.

AUGUST 1970

The Mongols (combined weight 585 pounds) ripped right through all competition in the WWF. Having already captured the tag team titles from Victor Rivera and Tony Marino, the Mongols, under their new manager Lou Albano, wanted nothing less than to bring added business to the area's hospitals. The fans cried out for heavy-weight champion Bruno Sammartino to put an end to the terror—and Bruno responded. For the first time in several years, Bruno did not defend his title at Madison Square Garden. Instead, he defended the entire federation. Before 17,864 fans, Bruno and Victor Rivera gave the Mongols the worst beating they ever took. Though one fall was won on disqualification and the title did not change hands, the fans gave their favorites a standing ovation for their work . . . On that same card, Crusher Verdu defeated Gorilla Monsoon when the 400-pounder could not beat a 10-count back into the ring . . . In Chicago, Mad Dog and Butcher Vachon defended their AWA tag team title by defeating Crusher and Bruiser two out of three falls in a steel cage . . . Verne Gagne retained his AWA championship by taking two out of three falls from hated Baron Von Raschke . . . A battle between two of the all-time greats, Bobo Brazil and

Dr. Bill Miller, ended in a 20-minute draw . . . Ray Stevens scored the biggest victory of his career when he defeated his former tag team partner, Pat Patterson, for the U.S. championship in San Francisco . . . Jack Brisco continued to climb the NWA ratings (Dory Funk Jr. reigned as champion) with a victory over Dale Lewis in Tampa.

AUGUST 1975

A capacity crowd at the West Palm Beach Auditorium saw NWA champion Jack Brisco and challenger Bob Roop battle to a classic 60-minute draw. The two former NCAA champions gave a display of scientific wrestling never before seen in a professional match in Florida . . . In Tampa, Roop threw away the rulebook to try to take advantage of young Bob Backlund. Before Backlund was seriously injured, however, the current WWF champ received help from Terry Funk! . . . In Boston, Spiros Arion and Bruno Sammartino were battling outside the ropes, on the arena floor, when Spiros beat the WWF champion into the ring before the "20" count . . . Jimmy and Johnny Valiant failed in their attempt to regain the WWF tag team titles from Victor Rivera and Dom DeNucci . . . Bobby Heenan nearly bled to death when he tried to interfere in a match on behalf of Ray Stevens. The incident occurred when Stevens battled Pepper Gomez in a steel cage match. As Gomez began to take the advantage, Heenan climbed into the ring and tried to attack Gomez with a plastic knife. Gomez, though, was prepared for the attack. He grabbed the knife from Heenan and sliced up the manager's face. Bobby was rushed to the hospital where it took 35 stitches and a transfusion to save his life . . . Lou Albano swapped the contracts of the Valiant brothers for Bobby Heenan's Blackjacks, Lanza and Mulligan. Albano also signed Buggy McGraw . . . A tag team match pitting Mil Mascaras and Mighty Igor against Ivan Koloff and Bulldog Brower ended in a double-disqualification with all four wrestlers battling outside the ring . . . Greg Gagne and Jim Brunzell got their wish. They were granted a crack at Ray Stevens' and Nick Bockwinkel's AWA tag team championship—with Bobby Heenan barred from ringside. It seemed as though the popular pair would come away with the belts when Gagne caught Stevens in a sleeper hold. Bockwinkel, however, interfered and the disqualification saved the belts. Even then Bockwinkel took advantage of the

No one knows wrestling better than the fans.

Because of this, we're now giving these experts a forum for their views and opinions. Each month, we'll ask a controversial question and have the fans answer—no matter what those answers might be!

THE QUESTION:

"Should two referees be assigned to every tag team match?"

THE ANSWERS:

Jim Tooney, Buffalo, New York:

"No, I think any qualified wrestling ref should be able to cover all the ring action. If he's good. Too many refs allow themselves unnecessary distractions. A ref should have a wide field of vision enabling him to take in everything. No, I really believe one ref is enough."

Jared Feinberg, Richmond, Virginia:

"Referee's in any sport, but especially wrestling, gotta be the toughest around. Look at everything happening in a tag team, I mean, how many tag team matches stay clean? Almost none. Always a nut like Lou Albano interfering and that makes a ref's job very tough. I feel sorry for them. Who ever appreciates the ref? No one."

Alice Schmidt, Allentown, Pennsylvania: "That's a tough one for me because I have this prejudice against referees. I've been going to wrestling matches for a long time, since I was eight. I won't tell you

Referee Dick Kroll eventually needed the assistance of Arnold Skoaland to pull Bruno Sammartino off Larry Zbyszko during their first meeting in Madison Square Garden. Perhaps two referees should have handled this match.

U.S. Champion Ric Flair:

"Your title means nothing to me," Ric Flair tells NWA champion Harley Race.

"I DON'T NEED THE WORLD TITLE"

AT SOME POINT in every wrestler's career, a period of re-assessment becomes of paramount importance. After several grueling years, a reign as United States Heavyweight champion, Mid-Atlantic champion, a share in the NWA and Mid-Atlantic tag team titles, Ric Flair reviews his career.

"I don't need the world title," said Flair. "Titles are for inferior wrestlers, like Harley Race or Bob Backlund. Guys like them need the prestige of a belt 'cause their lives and wrestling styles are so damn dull.

"But people don't think of Ric Flair in terms of a champion or not. When my name comes up in conversation, first thing people think of is my brilliance, my toughness, and terrific looks." Flair paused for breath.

"What am I looking for out of wrestling? I don't know, that's a toughie. I do know I'm very proud of what I've accomplished in my brief time in the squared circle," said Flair. "The times I've really cared about a title, that diamond belt ends up wrapped around my gorgeous muscular waist."

Beneath the grinning, handsome face of Ric Flair pulses a man deeply concerned about other people. Unlike other wrestlers obsessed with victory and sparkling diamond-studded belts, Flair searches for a deeper, more permanent meaning in every facet of his existence

"Someone like Backlund goes berserk silly before each match. Well, I don't know about him. He's talented and all, but he gets too worked up over the belt. Listen, man, a title is only a bunch of words strung together and held there by a belt.

"I don't require titles and stuff for my ego satisfaction. There's lots of ways for me to feel good about myself, my life, and my world without parading around like some loud-mouthed jackass boasting about this belt or that, how many times I've been champion. Hey, doesn't Harley Race ever realize he had to keep losing the belt to regain it four times?"

Flair grabbed a scrapbook off the coffee table.

"Okay, so I paste up important events from my career," said Flair. "But if you look through this," he flipped pages, "you'll see a lot of bouts marked for special attention had little to do, if anything, with a world title.

"Like this one," Flair grabbed a newspaper article recounting an especially vicious bout against Rick Steamboat. "Man, me and Rick used to go at it." Flair whistled, then broke into a boyish chuckle. "Now we're good buddies. That's the important aspect of that feud, dig? Two good-looking talented dudes battering heads until one day we wake up and see how damn stupid and futile the whole gig was.

"A friend like Rick Steamboat's worth a dozen diamond belts to me. Damn straight about that." Flair flipped more pages.

"Another time, well, this wasn't a bout I'd remember with fondness, more like real sadness," Flair's voice dipped. "An old pal of mine from my rulebreaking days wouldn't listen to reason. Don't know if the wrestling public realizes how immensely talented Greg

Ric backdrops Race after flinging him into the ropes. (above). The champion fails to pull Flair out of the ring (left), but successfully flips his challenger (below).

Valentine is.

"He had everything needed to become a great, great grappler. And he just tossed the whole ball of wax away by succumbing to primitive, evil desires. Hell, I understood where he's coming from. All of us have dark thoughts and violent fits. Some more than others. But you gotta control those impulses and channel them toward positive goals.

"Greg never realized that. Pity. Can't forget the heavy heart in my gut when I walked through the ropes and met Valentine," said Flair. For a brief moment he stared fixedly at the picture, fingers squeezing and slightly crumpling the heavy cardboard paper. He sighed, shook his head as if to rid his saddened soul of the awful memory, and forced a smile.

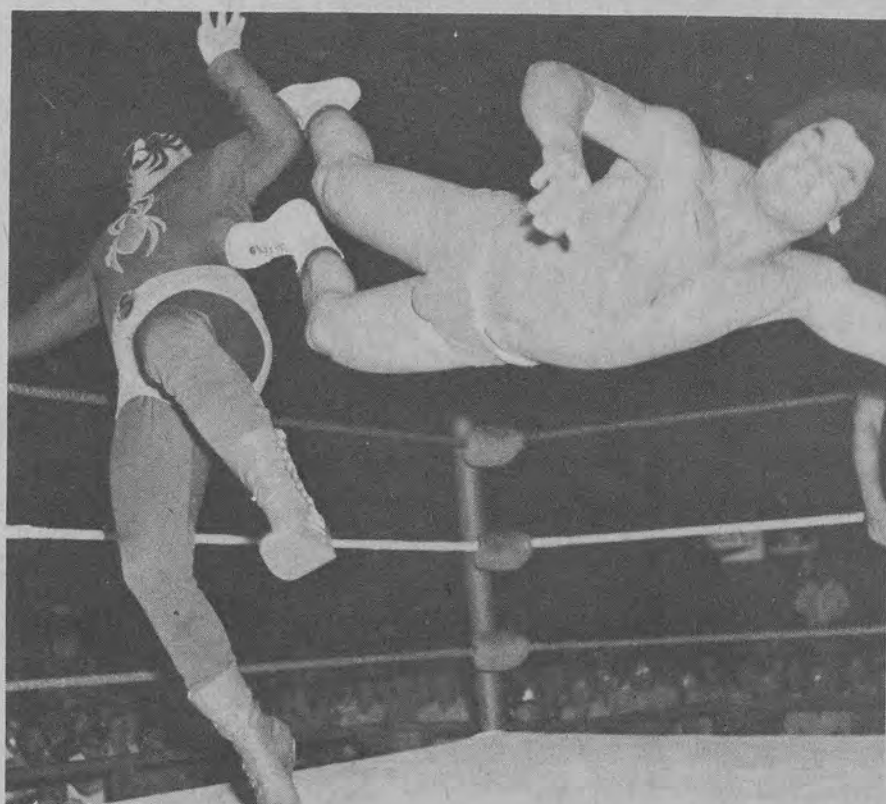

"There's more to life than winning or losing," said Flair. "Fans must realize that. Not everyone can win. At some point in our lives, you lose. You gotta understand that it's how you go about playing or working or studying that counts, the people you help, the things you fight for. If you do all those things, really give a damn, then winning and titles mean very little." □

How popular is the rising young star the Jamaica Kid? Well he's so popular his fans don't even give him time to take a vacation in his native country

IS THE JAMAICA KID THE FASTEST MAN IN WRESTLING?

LENNY HURST DOESN'T wrestle in Jamaica anymore! To wrestling fans down in that Caribbean country, Lenny is just another homebred wrestler who once worked the local arenas.

It isn't that Hurst doesn't like to wrestle in his homeland. It isn't that the fans don't want to see him. It's just that Lenny Hurst is now so busy wrestling in other parts of the world, in fact, all over the world, that he just doesn't get time to get back to where he started just a few short years ago.

So you say you've never heard of Lenny Hurst? The name just doesn't strike a bell? You mean you've never heard of a young wrestler who was formerly a Jamaican amateur and who now is fast building a reputation as one of the speediest, most acrobatic wrestlers to come upon the scene?

Maybe that's because you don't know Lenny Hurst by that name.

A spectacular flying dropkick sends The Spiderman on a trip that'll take him over the ropes and into the seats!

A fashionable dresser, "The Kid" (above) poses for photographers. Up, up and away (below). Fidel Castillo's getting a taste of The Kid's flying Jamaican body press.

Maybe that's because you don't know he is the Jamaica Kid!

The Jamaica Kid. It seems that it takes longer to say that name than for this unbelievably fast grappler to whip across from one side of the ropes to the other and back again.

Maybe a name like the Zip Kid or the Whiz Kid would be more descriptive. Because if there's one thing about the Jamaica Kid that makes him stand out from the rest it's this. The Jamaica Kid is fast. Damn fast!

Even Edouard Carpentier, a man with a fantastic reputation for his athletic prowess and tremendous speed, has this to say about the Jamaica Kid:

"I saw him wrestle for the first time up in Montreal and I was very impressed. I thought at first he was just a new face. But this is a wrestler who stands out from the crowd. He has that certain stuff that shows a potential for greatness. He has a self-assurance that makes the audience relax and know that no matter what kind of trouble he gets into, he'll get out of it.

"He's fast. He's sure-footed. And he's dynamic. I'm not saying the Jamaica Kid has perfected his style but he's well on his way.

Nice praise from a wrestler with a reputation like Carpentier's. But not the only praise the Jamaica Kid has gotten.

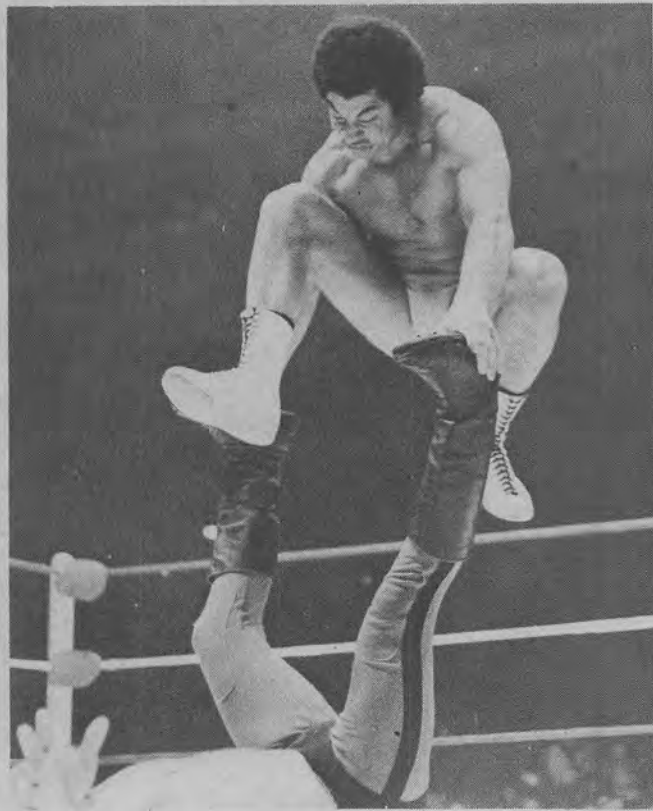

To understand why the praise is overflowing you've got to see him in action. Like during his hard-fought battle with Don Serrano in Montreal.

The double wristlocks that had these men entangled kept the audience on edge for almost three full minutes. Each of them was showing the strain of an extremely exhausting hold, but neither would let go, until finally the Jamaica Kid made it unbearable for Don.

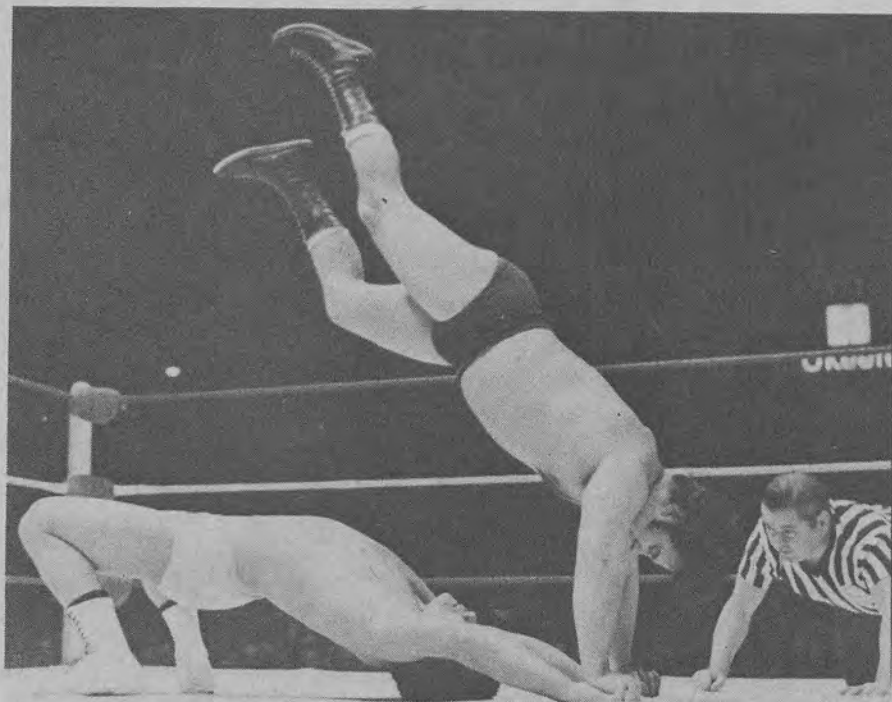

Serrano looked like he had the match when he lifted the Jamaica Kid up, swung him around, and sent him flying to the other side of the mat. But it seemed that instead of giving the Kid ideas about giving up, it reminded him of his great liking for flight through the air—either into the other opponent with such force that he knocks him over, or by sending the other wrestler flying out of the ring.

This time it wound up in the latter case. The Kid lifted Serrano off the mat and carried him while picking up speed until he launched him almost like a rocket into the ropes. Just inches more and Serrano would have been in the front rows.

Fidel Castillo thought he had it made when he pressed the Kid up over his head like a giant barbell. But this Raul Castillo is about to get a foot in the mouth as The Kid flies high on his way to certain victory.

A perfect bridge (above) will force Rudy Kay to change his plans—'cause Jamaica's not going to be caved in! Fidel Castillo's arm is gonna ache momentarily as The Kid comes flying down on it (below).

didn't scare off the Jamaica Kid, who came back like he was jet propelled. After knocking Fidel to the mat, he bounced up and down like a rubber ball while holding his opponent in a fierce armlock.

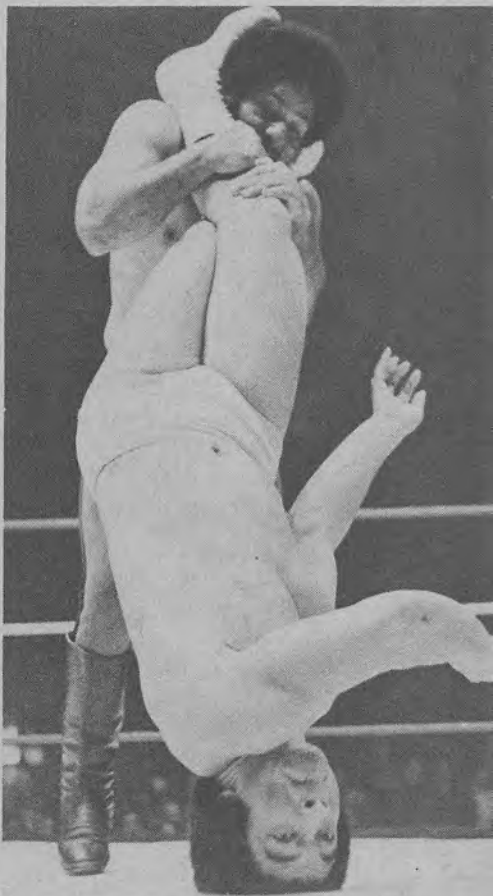

Fidel's brother Raoul Castillo thought the Kid was a goner after he slammed him into the canvas head first. But by a sudden reverse Raoul found himself in a scissors hold and barely unable to breathe. Scarcely a minute later Raoul was flat on his back and the Jamaica Kid was using Castillo's feet to support his springing up and down onto Raoul's stomach!

One of the most action-packed matches in Montreal featured the Jamaica Kid and Pierre LeFebvre against the Spidermen. When the Spidermen kept double teaming the Kid, he and Pierre got involved in a dual attack against the masked villains. The Kid launched himself off Pierre in a lightning like Johnny-On-The-Pony move and trapped the Spidermen in the ropes!

But that was just one moment of the match. Throughout, the Jamaica Kid was flying through the air like some trapeze artist without a trapeze. He sent the Spidermen flying by lifting them bodily and sending them on their way or by dropkicking them into oblivion.

And this type of exciting wrestling seems to be repeated wherever the Jamaica Kid goes. No wonder why the Kid has been dubbed one of the fastest-rising young wrestlers in the sport.

And with the Jamaica Kid, when they say fast, they mean FAST! □

MR. WRESTLING II:

"WHEN DID DORY FUNK JR.
BECOME MY ENEMY?"

MR. WRESTLING II folded his hands and stared off toward some spot on the greenish-blue walls.

"I'll give you two examples which'll really convey my past relationships with Terry and Dory Funk Jr., and why I'm hurt by Dory's savage actions," said II.

"Whenever I'd wrestle Terry, the bout would turn into this roughhouse brawling kind of match. He never liked me and rebuffed all my efforts at friendship. You don't have to hate the man you're wrestling. One time we passed each other on the street, he muttered something, I retorted, and before long there were two squad cars keeping us apart," recalled II.

"Absolutely no respect existed between us. On the other hand, Dory and I had this relationship which allowed us to respect each other as wrestlers and men. While our bouts were far from tranquil, we never put down the other or resorted to cheap, filthy tricks. They were tough and clean bouts. And afterwards, we'd run into each other and be nice, say hello, 'wasn't that a helluva match,' you know what I mean," said II, smiling tightly.

Their matches have always been hard-fought, long, and evenly-matched. But there were always signs of respect between the two. Dory Funk Jr. has apparently lost that respect. Funk attempts a spinning toehold (above).

"All of a sudden, Dory comes into Atlanta and mouths off. Takes cheap shots left and right. What happened? Why would Dory say those things and turn our matches into disgusting alley fights? When did Dory Funk Jr. become my enemy?"

Two factors contribute to the marked decline in the Dory Funk-Mr. Wrestling II relationship. One is quite obvious.

"I don't like any fool pounding

Recently a group of top scientific writers gathered to discuss one of wrestling's most puzzling questions: Is Fred Blassie aiding or ruining Hulk Hogan's career. The consensus opinion may shock you

IS FRED BLASSIE RUINING HULK HOG

PAUL QUINN dragged deeply on a filtered cigarette, glanced at the three glossy photos of Hulk Hogan and shook his head.

"Damned if I can understand why this guy isn't champion of the WWF," said Quinn, twitching as a loud disco song blared from the jukebox in the corner of the paneled plush writers' bar on the west side of Manhattan. Quinn sipped his drink and waved over the waitress.

"Maggie, do me a favor." Quinn pulled out a bill. "Drop some coins into the machine and play us some Maynard Ferguson and Miles Davis, huh? Enough of this." Quinn jerked his head toward the trembling jukebox.

Maggie smiled and shuffled away. In a few moments the pounding horn of Ferguson filled the bar. Quinn and the four other wrestling writers grinned and popped pretzels into their mouths.

"I think Blassie's ruining the guy," said Gary Morgenstein.

AN'S CAREER?

"Hogan's got incredible talent, size, whatever you're looking for in a pro wrestler, Hogan's it. Okay, maybe he's not Einstein upstairs, but he should be getting title shot after title shot, especially with that talent."

"Wouldn't be the first time Blassie put the hooks into a career and flung it overboard," said Matt Brock, lighting one cigarette with the dying embers of another. "Look what he did to Victor Rivera. I always felt Rivera shoulda been one of the all-time greats. "Pound for pound, Rivera has more talent than anyone, including Sammartino. Yet Blassie twisted his head around and suddenly Rivera doesn't know what the hell he's doing. Kinda sad."

"Blassie almost hypnotizes wrestlers," said Stu Saks. He winced and waved his head through the cloud of cigarette smoke. "You guys wanna blow in the other direction?"

"I don't think it has so much to do with whether a guy is intelligent," said Bill Apter, tapping his fingers rhythmically to Ferguson's rendition of "Birdland." "I think Hogan's pretty smart and..."

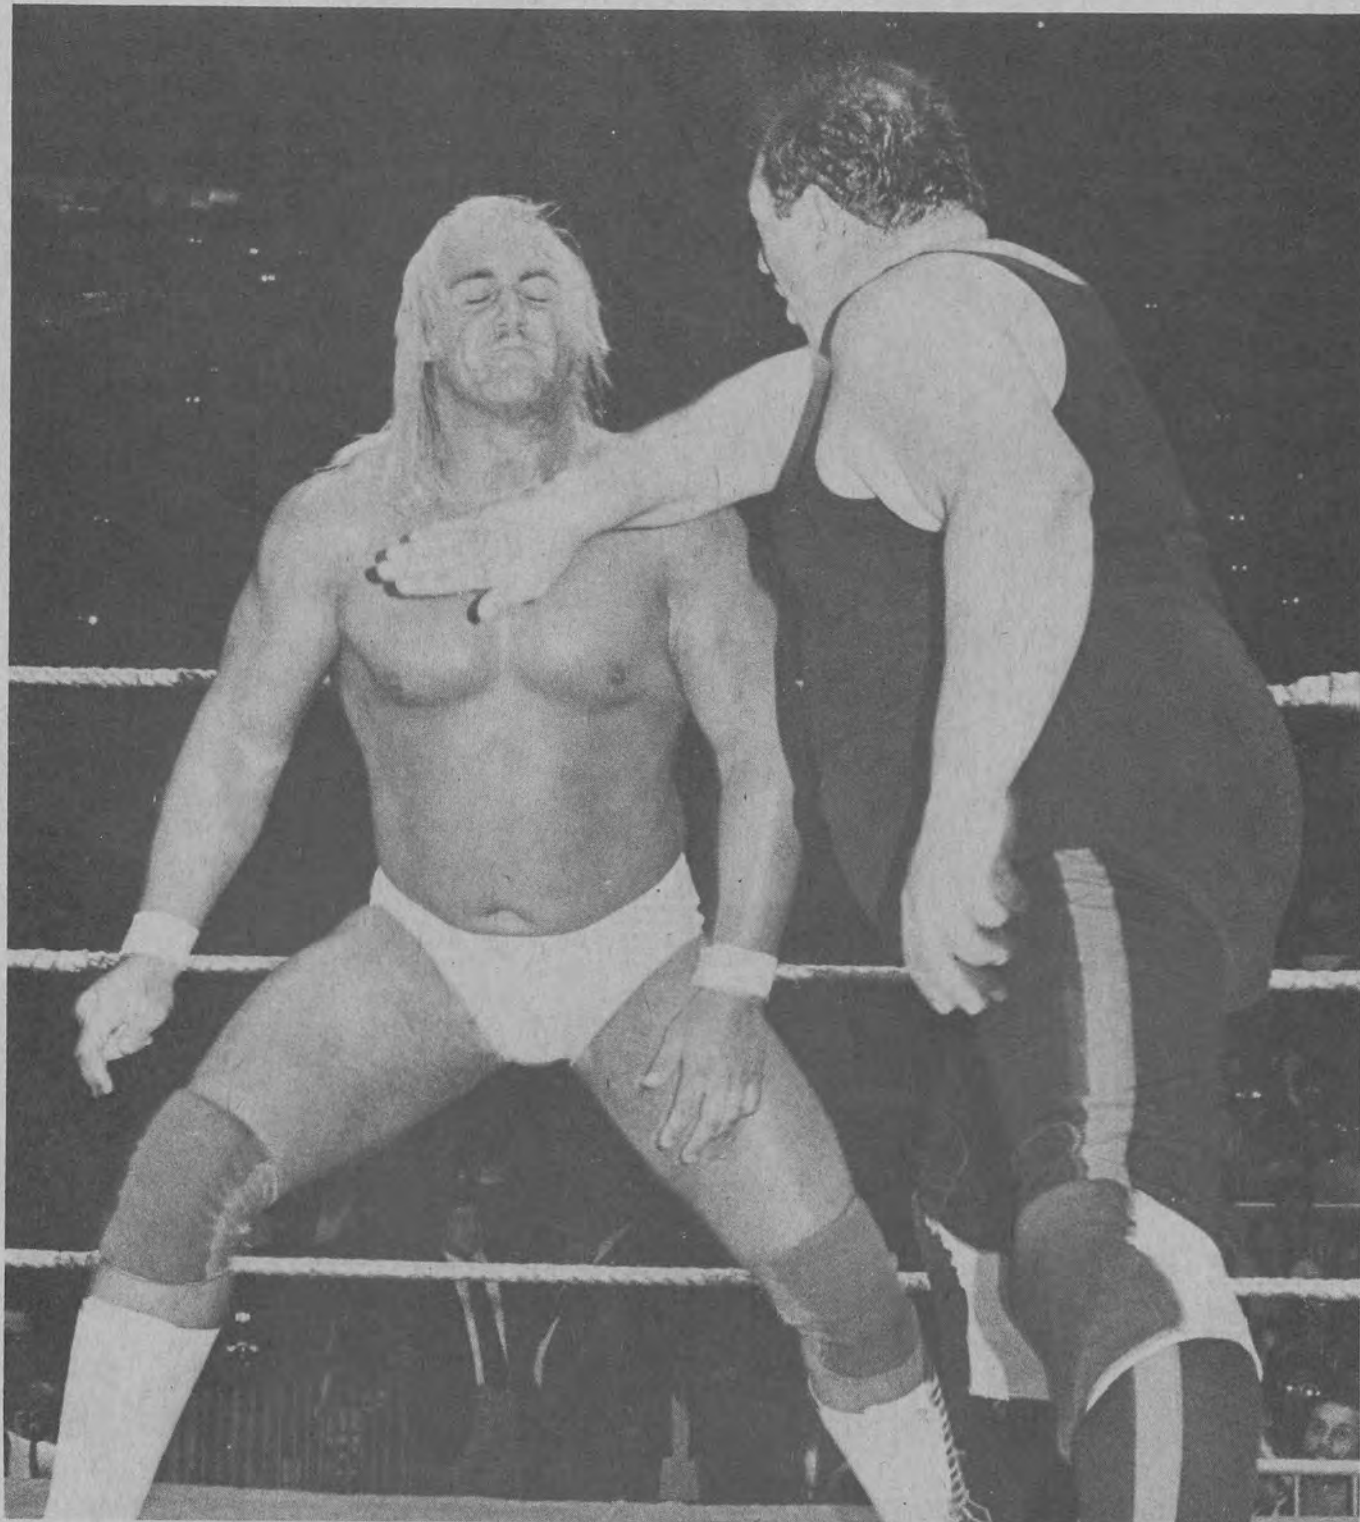

"Guy can't count, Bill," said Brock.

"So?"

"What do you mean, so? Need to figure out how to get from the dressing room to the ring," snapped Brock.

"Then he'll ask Fred," replied

Blassie defended matching Hogan against Gorilla Monsoon, claiming that Hulk needed the experience of matching up against a man that equalled his strength. Monsoon lands a karate chop to Hogan's throat (above).

Apter.

"That's the point," said Morgy. "He has to ask Blassie everything. Hogan has no mind of his own anymore, assuming he ever had more than steamed cauliflower. If he'd had some good, solid guidance, even someone like Skoaland, who is less emotional than a Blassie, Hogan might very well be WWF champion."

"I don't know about that," said Saks, shaking his head and coughing.

"Don't think he's that good?" asked Quinn.

"I don't know," said Saks. "He has the physical dimensions, but you have to have the guile and the mind to plot the strategy. I think a manager's strategy is very overrated. A classic example is Heenan and Bockwinkel. Whatever Heenan would say about this brilliant strategy or that kind, he still needed an intelligent enough wrestler to implement the strategy. I don't know if Hogan has that sort of intellect."

"I don't think it has anything to do with intelligence, Stu," said Brock. "I think instinct is much more important. Hogan has the tough instincts. He knows what to do between the ropes. Yet Blassie's filled him with so much stupid strategy and hateful thoughts that, once in trouble, Hogan thinks instead of reacting."

After reversing Monsoon's whip across the ring (above), Hogan follows up with a series of stomps (right).

"If Hogan relied totally on pure brute strength and his instincts, like Matt suggests, he could overpower people," said Morgy, finishing his drink.

"What about Andre?" asked Apter.

"Yeah?" asked Brock.

"He can overpower people, but he doesn't."

"Andre's constrained by inner decency," said Brock. "I always wondered whether Andre had the killer instinct any great wrestler needs. Hogan does have that killer instinct but fails to use it. And I blame Blassie for that."

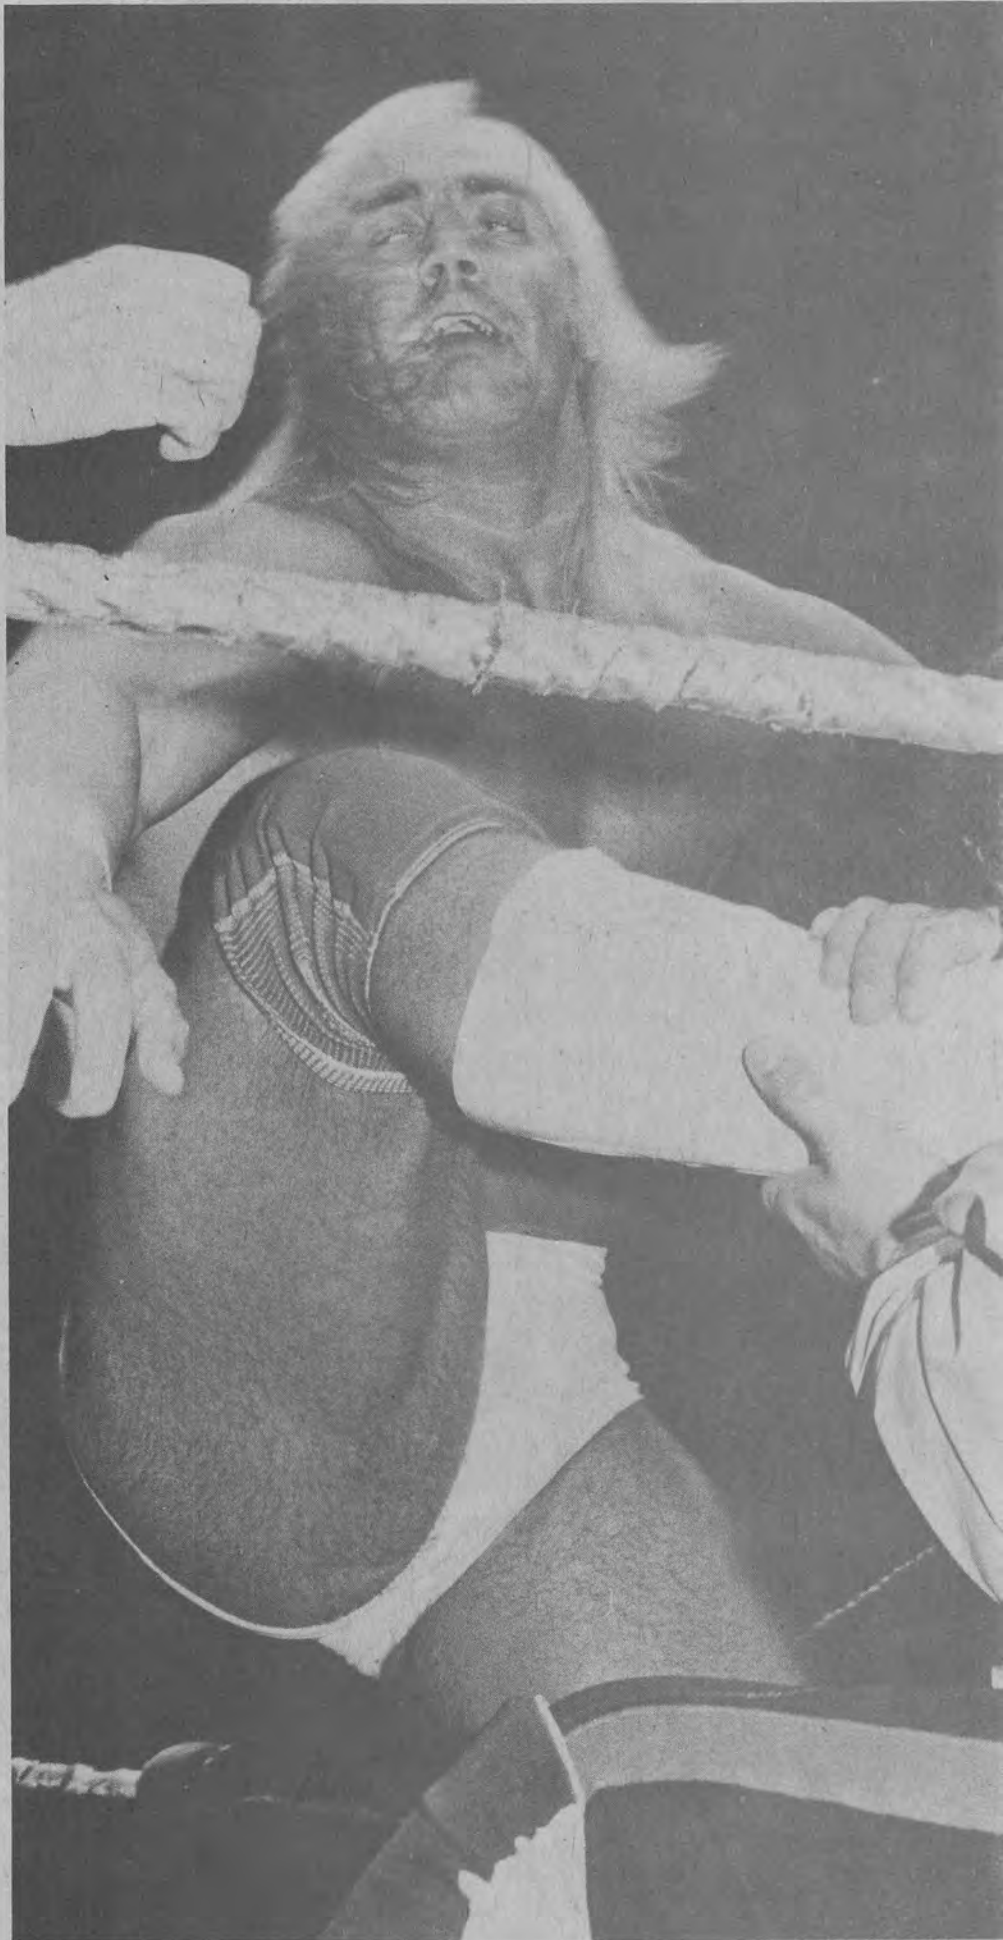

"So we agree Blassie might ruin Hogan's career?" asked Morgy.

"Absolutely," said Brock. "Next round's on me."

"No, let me get it," said Apter.

"Okay," Brock said, grinning.

"Uh, could you lend me some money?" Apter begged. □

MARK LEWIN:

THE MANIAC WHO CAN BE SAVED

HIS DARK BROWN eyes clear for a few moments at a time. In these precious seconds of mental clarity, Mark Lewin acts like any other decent human being. He speaks precisely without obscene taunts. He doesn't physically menace people. He speaks in complete sentences, not deranged fragments.

It lasts for a short while. Then it is gone. Lewin reverts back to his barbaric, insane state. Is Mark Lewin naturally a nice guy and simply under some hypnotic spell?

"Nothing wrong with me," snarled Lewin. "Only problems with bums who can't take a good shot to the head. I make them crazy. I ain't crazy."

While in Texas, Lewin teamed with fiery Gino Hernandez. Both were managed by Gary Hart, as cruel a ring general as ever lived.

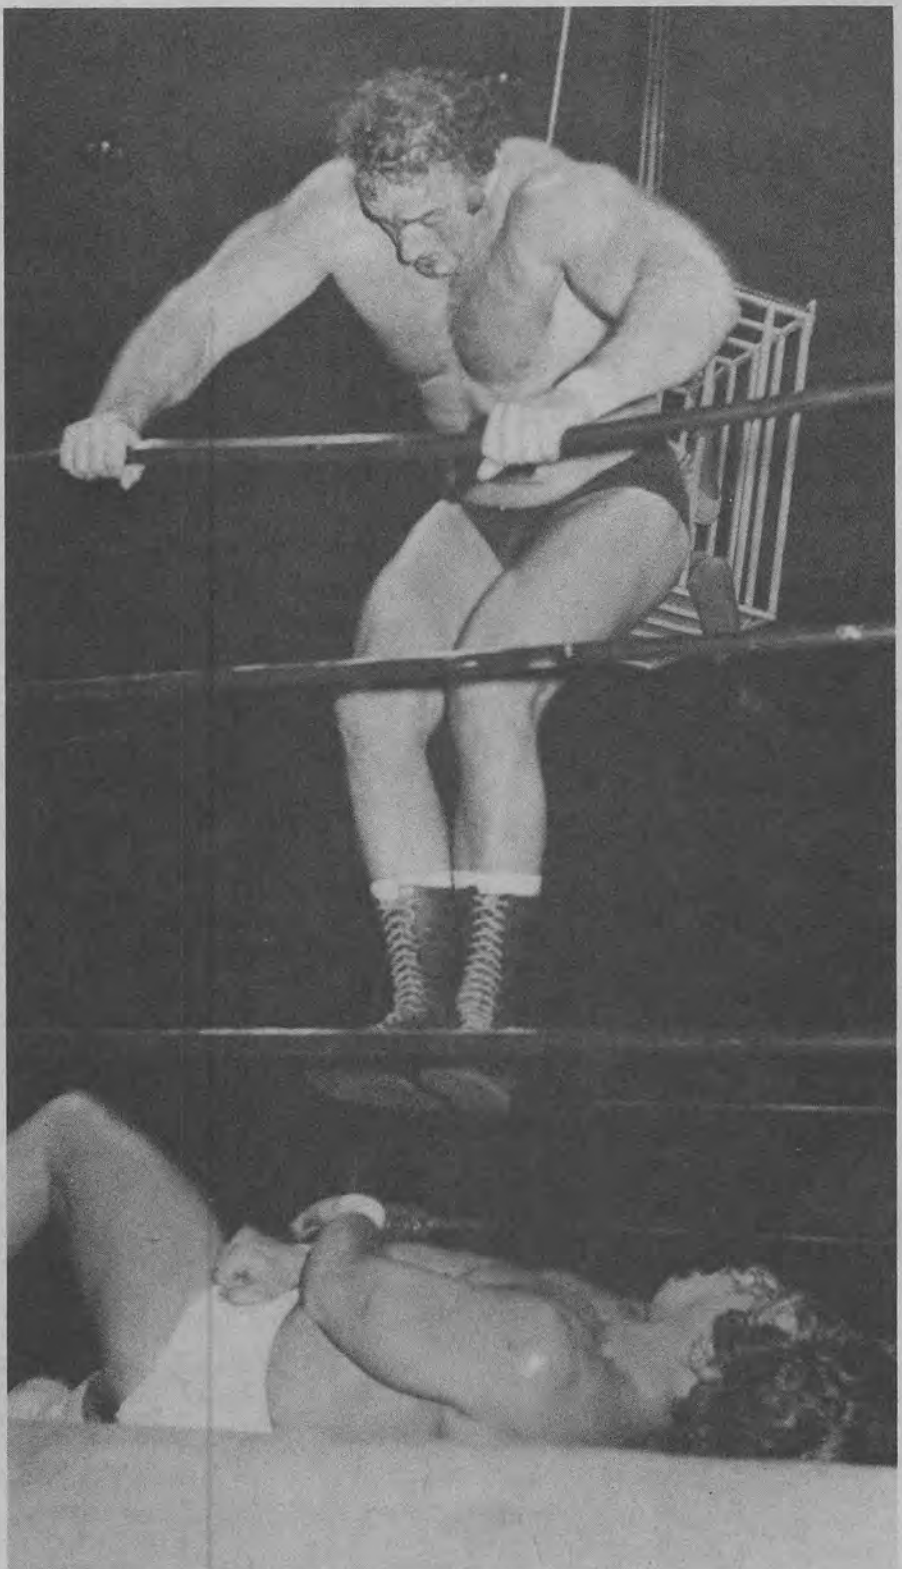

"Hart's a bum," said Lewin.

Jealousy comes between the best of friends. When Lewin finally split with Hart and Hernandez, promoters drooled at the prospect of their inevitable bout.

"Nothing would give me greater pleasure than pulling off one of Lewin's ears and mailing it back to his Aunt Bertie," said Hart.

Hart, Hernandez, and Lewin had the opportunity for vengeance. With Hart suspended in a steel cage above the ring, Hernandez and Lewin battled in a brutal bout. Once Lewin defeated Hernandez, it was Hart's turn to make good on his vengeful vows.

With his former manager, Gary Hart, hovering above the ring in a cage, Mark Lewin appears to be in complete control of his actions. Though those actions are brutal, the fans are given the opportunity to see the real Mark Lewin.

First Texas wrestling suffered the deranged antics of Mark Lewin. He left a field of broken bodies and battered brains across the entire state. In Georgia, Lewin continues his barbaric behavior. Yet Lewin can be saved and returned to the scientific wrestling world.

Super Destroyer's Boast:

"MR. FLORIDA IS AN IMPOSTER"

ARRIVING AT THE arena, Super Destroyer seemed calm and relaxed for a man about to wrestle. It seemed stranger when one realized he'd be wrestling a man who vowed to end his career, Mr. Florida.

In the dressing room, Super Destroyer casually suited up. He didn't change a shoelace that broke; instead he tied it a few eyelets down.

"Easiest money I ever made," the masked grappler told friends. "I walk into the arena, Mr. Florida fails to show, and then I walk back out. What a way to earn a living!"

Fifteen minutes before his scheduled match, the promoter went to Super Destroyer.

"I don't care how much you hate his guts," the promoter said, "but I don't want you guys to go crazy outside the ring."

"What are you talking about? Mr. Florida won't show."

"Tell that to the guy in the other dressing room. He wants your head on a silver platter."

Super Destroyer was thunderstruck. "He can't be here! He can't be. His eye was burned. I burned it! He can't wrestle blind!"

"He's got a patch over the eye.

The rest of him is 100 percent perfect—and mean."

Super Destroyer quickly changed his attitude. He made sure everything was perfect. His mind raced to devise new strategies. This couldn't be happening.

In the ring, he stared hard at his masked foe. All of a sudden, he broke out into a grin.

"He's not Mr. Florida!" Super Destroyer shouted. "He's an imposter!"

At the bell, Super Destroyer rushed from his corner. Mr. Florida sent him sprawling. Stunned, Super Destroyer got slowly to his feet. He didn't know who was behind the mask, but he sure didn't like him.

The match grew more brutal and ugly. Super Destroyer couldn't figure out what was going on. Enraged, Super Destroyer went at his foe with unleashed ferocity. It was a brutal exhibition of wrestling savagery.

Neither man was looking to pin the other. They wanted the brawl to last as long as possible. Mr. Florida was as vicious as the rules allowed. Super Destroyer was far more vicious than any rule could allow. Fans were standing on their feet, cheering.

It was almost inhuman how they kept up the ferocious pace. Certainly, their bodies had to be in agony. Yet, they never showed the slightest weariness. Driven by rage, they kept going at each other, inflicting pain as much as possible.

Everyone knew, and feared, one day an apartment house wrestling match would go out of control. Some day two girls would pass the point of no return, uncaring of their own safety and determined to totally destroy their foe. Such a day finally arrived

THE SUN POURED through the window, its rays illuminating Lynn's face. The brunette's features appeared harsh in the bright light. She cursed softly under her breath and pulled the blanket over her head.

Five years ago, Lynn would get up with the dawn and race to the beach. Then, California was the best of all possible worlds. Surf during the day and wealthy young men to entertain her at night. There was no reason to think it would ever end.

Then Lynn discovered the reasons. Money grew short, new and younger faces filled the beaches, and those that remained grew old on alcohol, drugs, and fear of aging. Lynn knew she would have to go on to something else or become one of those pathetic middle-age creatures whom she once laughed at.

So Lynn got a job as a cocktail waitress in a place where men go with women they don't want their wives to hear about. The tips were generous, the work was fast but light, and if a woman didn't care that the younger girls made the most money, everything was fine. Lynn couldn't understand why she was angry all the time.

This morning, Lynn needed her sleep. It was going to be a big night. Tonight, she wouldn't be a waitress. She'd be an apartment wrestler. It was the only fun she got out of life these days.

The alarm went off at 11 a.m. Lynn would exercise a bit, eat a large meal at about one, and then rest. That was the usual routine, and it worked so far. This was Lynn's 10th match. She was looking forward to the day when she'd lose count.

She was also looking forward to tonight's match. Her opponent would be a young blonde fresh from Arizona. Grew up on a ranch, they said, a great big ranch her daddy owned. Now she was in Los Angeles, looking forward to new thrills, new excitement, new everything.

The lady's name was Brooke. Lynn hated her on general principle. She had begged to get Brooke as her opponent. This would be the blonde's third match. Usually, it would take at least eight matches before a woman would be ready for Lynn. But there was something about Brooke's recklessness that made people think she could handle anything. So they made the match.

Lynn put on her warm-up suit and started her stretching exercises. Her long, lithe body responded like a finely tuned instrument. As the sweat dripped down the curves of her frame, Lynn knew there was no reason to be humble. There was not an ounce of fat on her body, and every muscle was hard and strong. Tonight would be something special.

Lunch was a feast. When she ate alone, Lynn forgot she was supposed to be a civilized human being. She tore at her steak and wild rice like a lioness devouring its kill. When asked to describe how she drank red wine, Lynn once said, "Say I slosh it down. And if I don't, I mean to."

After lunch, Lynn lay down on her bed and watched soap operas. She lapsed in and out of sleep, her mind conjuring absurd images in that half-waking state. One image that recurred often was Brooke's face, screaming in agony. Lynn was never more relaxed.

About 25 miles away, Brooke lay on a beach blanket, soaking up sun. Two of the better surfers were flipping a coin to see who'd buy her lunch. Brooke adored men to fight for her attention. She also adored fighting for men's attention. That's why she became an apartment wrestler.

The surfers had no idea the object of their affections was an apartment wrestler. Brooke liked to keep her different worlds separate. Surfers were toys she used to amuse herself. Apartment wrestling allowed her to be admired by "important men." Brooke closed her eyes and remembered what her father said about important men.

"Always take important men seriously," he said, "because they can help you. And if you don't take them seriously, they get angry. Then they'll hurt you. A man is only as important as the amount of fear he makes other people feel. But if he likes you, there's no limit. Important men can be very generous. After all, they're important enough to make other people pay for their generosity."

While the taller surfer was allowed to take Brooke to lunch, the voluptuous blonde had her mind on the evening's excitement. She wondered which bikini to wear, her hairstyle, and makeup. She had to be splendid. Brooke loved it when she was splendid.

That night, both women arrived at the Beverly Hills mansion early. The butler led them to a private room where they dressed and relaxed. Brooke moved easily within the plush surroundings, as if luxury was her due. Lynn greedily enjoyed every advantage, like a slum child allowed to gorge in a bakery shop.

The mansion living room also filled up early. There was the usual conversation involving the usual millions, but no one seemed particularly interested. The anticipation of Lynn's savagery pitted against Brooke's reckless conceit made all other considerations seem unimportant.

The two women were summoned. The spectators quickly took their seats. Perhaps a few thousand dollars was bet on the outcome. The moment was at hand.

From across the room, the two women glared at each other. Lynn was all tension, every muscle straining to be set free for the attack. Brooke stood loose and calm, the supreme picture of self-confidence. The two waited impatiently for the signal to begin. It was given.

Lynn rushed at her foe. Brooke assumed she could easily sidestep the clumsy onslaught. However, at the last possible moment, Lynn twisted in a deadly pirouette. She spun and smashed her elbow hard into Brooke's chin. The blonde went down as if shot. Some assumed the match would be over in less than a minute. They counted on neither Brooke's will nor Lynn's cruelty.

Lynn grabbed Brooke around the knees and hoisted the blonde upside down. Then, she began to bounce Brooke on the head. The blonde suffered three thumps before grabbing Lynn's calf with her teeth. The brunette screamed as the teeth dug deep in the flesh. She quickly released her hold on Brooke.

The blonde leaped to her feet. Though her legs were a little wobbly, Brooke was ready for action. She carefully approached Lynn, whose teeth were clenched and bared. Then, as if propelled by some unknown force, Brooke lunged at Lynn, driving her head hard into the brunette's belly.

The two women tumbled to the carpet. Lynn had managed not to have the wind knocked out of her, so she had plenty of fight left. The two beauties locked together and rolled across the carpet. Their arms and legs were a whirlwind of action as they punched, clawed, and kicked. Every inch of their bodies was either giving or receiving pain. Watching them heave and twist was astonishing. The spectacular action couldn't go on forever. Something had to happen.

No one is quite sure how it happened, but Brooke found herself atop Lynn. The blonde quickly took advantage of the situation, wrapping her fingers around the brunette's tanned throat. One could hear Lynn's desperate gurgling for air. Her eyes grew wide with rage and terror. Her lithe body heaved and squirmed like a snake in its death throes. And like a snake about to strike, her fingers flew into Brooke's golden tresses.

The next thing anyone knew, there was a howl of agony from Brooke as she rolled away. No one knew why until later in the match, when slight red streaks began to discolor her hair. Then Hart is in no condition to help his bloody wrestler, Gino Hernandez (above left). Lewin, the victor, lowers the cage (above right) and attacks Hart until Hernandez recovers sufficiently to aid his manager (below).

"Cowardly bum," said Lewin. "I know Hart's weakness. Hit him hard. Guy can't stand pain. Starts cryin' like a little baby."

Hart and Lewin wrestled like wounded animals. Rules and regulations vanished. Hatred became the guiding principle.

"I want him stretched out," said Lewin.

"Only a bloody corpse would satisfy me," said Hart.

Both nearly achieved their sadistic goals. However, the violent nature of the match seems secondary to the essential question concerning Lewin's character. Why would someone with his skills succumb to hypnotic spells by men like The Great Mephisto and Gary Hart? Is Lewin simply weak-willed? Is Lewin basically a bum eager to wreak havoc upon all living things?

When apart from a crazy manager for any period of time, Lewin's ring behavior changes, leading to a tentative conclusion of Lewin's insanity. He won't admit it, but study the man.

Against Superstar Billy Graham, Lewin conducted classes in the finer techniques of scientific wrestling combined with refined brawling.

"I wrestle the way I want. No one tells me how to wrestle," insisted Lewin.

A proud man, Lewin resents inferences that any manager hypnotizes him and controls his intelligent mind. That Lewin's as intelligent as he is and still susceptible to hypnotism suggests he subconsciously wishes domination.

"Some wrestlers are afraid of controlling their own fate," said one veteran wrestling promoter in the Texas area. "A guy like Lewin might be terrified of setting up his own strategy. That's why he seeks out the worst kind of managers, the real nuts, to help him.

"I always thought Lewin had the scientific wrestling know-how to be one of the real fine grapplers around, maybe even a world champion, who knows? But I'll say he won't go anywhere until he takes back command of his life."

What Lewin needs is a string of victories achieved principally by his scientific wrestling prowess. Not that he's a dainty wrestler. Far from it. Like other great champions, Lewin can be tough and clean. But he must be shown it is feasible.

And somehow, someday, he must be pried free of the strangulating influence of any manager. □

Super Destroyer

Super Destroyer works on Mr. Florida's back by locking up his chin (above) and kneeling him along the ropes (below).

Finally, the buzzer sounded. The match was over. The two men looked sad! They wanted to continue. The promoter, who didn't want to see either permanently crippled, commanded them to leave the arena.

Twenty minutes later, Super Destroyer held a press conference. His eyes through the slits of the mask were filled with cruel delight.

"I want it known," he began, "that I didn't wrestle the man

"Do you have any proof?"

"No one could wrestle after being burned like Mr. Florida was. When I do a job, I do it right!"

"We thought it was an accident."

Super Destroyer took a deep breath. He knew he'd gone too far. "What I meant was . . ." he began but couldn't think of a good excuse. "That's not important, anyway. What's important is that Mr. Florida is an imposter. Don't you guys care about things like that. Aren't you supposed to tell people the truth?"

"He looked like Mr. Florida to us."

"He can't be! I burned him too badly. He couldn't come back. Ever! Do you hear me?"

The reporters looked at each other. Was this another lie from Super Destroyer? Or did the masked grappler really believe there was another Mr. Florida?

No one could tell for sure. But whoever was calling himself Mr. Florida will surely get his hands on Super Destroyer again! □

THE TATTLER

ATLANTA, GA—Weep, wrestling fans. Mr. Wrestling II lost the Champion of Champions Trophy to NWA champion Harley Race in a bout characterized by excessive brawling.

"No, I don't like that masked moron and I'm damn proud to say why," snapped Race. "Guy like that infuriates me. He shouldn't be allowed to get any matches."

It's reaction appeared more subdued, almost despondent.

"Well, I'll say I'm depressed about losing this trophy," said II. "This award meant a lot to me and I like to think I honored the meaning behind the award. Unfortunately, someone like Harley Race will only disgrace the award and totally ignore the love and honor behind it."

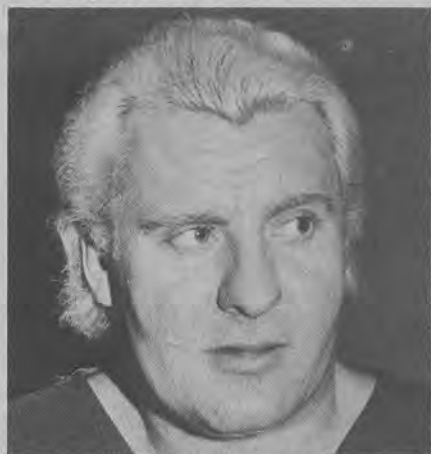

MR. WRESTLING II

"But I don't want my fans thinking I'm giving up," said II, lips pursed. "I'll regain my belt or perish in the effort."

—B.W. Foreman

HOUSTON, TX—Texas fans view Johnny Valiant's invasion of the state with a mixture of apprehension and glee. Yet Texas promoter Paul Boesch insists "Luscious" John represents a serious threat to the top mat stars.

JOHNNY VALIANT

"Wrestlers better watch out for Valiant," said Boesch. "He's tough and mean and very, very smart. By linking up with Gino Hernandez and Gary Hart, Valiant's made one of the smartest decisions in his entire career."

—James Washington

NEW YORK, NY—Larry Zbyszko waited a long, long time for this moment.

"A title shot," said Zbyszko, sighing. "Nothing like a title shot. I suffered a great deal to get into a position like this. After years of Sammartino stabbing me in the back, I've arrived. Truly and completely. Fans respect me and acknowledge my talents.

"I know how terrified Backlund was before this match. And he has every reason to be frightened. I'm the best wrestler in the world, and I'm finally earning my just rewards," concluded Zbyszko.

how long that is. But, anyway, I always see the referee favoring the bad guys. All the time. And I'm tired of watching Dominic DeNucci's head opened like a can of fruit cocktail because the ref doesn't see the illegal object. So if two referees will help, I'm all for it." Jim Lentine, St. Louis, Missouri: "I think the problem isn't two refs but preventing former wrestlers or even current wrestlers from refereeing matches. I think they can't maintain any kind of objectivity. Many of them still brood over rivalries or plain jealousies and that affects their performance as a professional referee. But I just want to say that, by and large, referees do a heckuva job in a very difficult position."

Perhaps a second referee could be utilized to make sure managers do not interfere in matches.

Catherine Hessler, Freeport, New York: "Never forget the first time I ever saw a wrestling match, oh, musta been maybe 30 years ago. And there was this wrestler with a strange-shaped head called The Angel. I'll never forget that. And this poor referee ran around the ring until I thought he'd fall down and die, trying to keep up with things. Yes, indeed, as many refs as needed. Even my grandson agrees and he knows wrestling."

Nick Bockwinkel has been known to conceal his rulebreaking tactics from the one referee.

David Huppert, Tampa, Florida: "The way men like Nick Bockwinkel and Ernie Ladd cheat, either in a tag team or an individual match, two refs might not do the job. Rulebreakers perfect methods of getting the referee's attention away from their cheating. If you had two refs, one could always watch the action and the other watch for any illegal stunts."

Two referees have been used to maintain order in Los Angeles' 22-man battle royals.

Berta Eberling, Kansas City, Missouri: "I think a referee slows down the action in a tag team. I love watching four husky guys pulling and throwing each other around the ring. Many times a referee will stop a maneuver before it reaches a dangerous situation. If it does, so? This is wrestling. It's supposed to be tough. Anyone who can't stand the sport should look for other work." ☐ my brother Terry," snapped Dory. "Isn't anyone around as close to me as Terry and the Funk blood runs thicker than a Texas river. Bet on that, man.

MR. WRESTLING II

"I thought he could get away with taking low blows at Terry.

Well, that day is over, finished, the end, man. From now on, I better watch his hide when he tangles with a Funk 'cause he's got two of us on his hands and one of us with hands tied behind our back could whip that creep."

Funk, a master at inflicting pain, scissors II's legs to add pressure to an overlapping toe-hold (above). Wrestling II clasps his hands around Funk's neck in an attempt to break a headlock (below).

Yet mere sibling loyalty fails to fully explain Dory's recent ferocious behavior. Not only against II, but in matches against Jack Brisco, Dusty Rhodes and other area wrestlers, Funk's tactics border on the mindless savagery generally found in the likes of Mark Lewin or Abdullah the Butcher.

"I don't wrestle any different than I always did," insisted Dory.

Frustration begets anger. It's been quite a while since Dory Funk Jr. held the world title and the effects of being a perennial contender may finally be exacting a fearsome toll.

Dory won't come right out and admit jealousy. Still, Dory's a proud man, enormously confident of his own abilities. Lesser men (in his opinion) winning titles must gall this talented wrestler.

"Can you tell me how someone like Race stays atop the NWA?" asked Funk. "Beats the hell outta me. And a clod like II somehow staying a fan favorite? Again, can't figure that out."

"My family traditionally ruled wrestling. Titles are my birthright and I'll be damned if any masked idiot stands in my way. Ever. I'll annihilate anyone trying to prevent me from regaining a title."

"I will be world champion again. I don't care what must be done, what sacrifices or who my opponents have to be. I'm gonna get the title back in the Funk family where it belongs. That I vow," yelled Dory.

II's reaction typifies the kind, understanding nature of this sincere, complex man.

"I kinda know what Dory's going through," said II. "It's tough always contending without tasting the sweet elixir of championship success. After a while, things build up and explode."

"Look, maybe I'm all wrong, but Dory Funk Jr. has a world of decency. I hold out my hand and promise to forget and forgive. Please tell Dory I said that." ☐ everyone realized Lynn had torn at the blonde's scalp, raking her nails like talons across the skin.

Brooke howls in pain as the vivacious Lynn applies pressure to her neck muscles. Cruelty, that could not be forecasted by looking at these two beauties, dominated the action.

Now the two women were filled with rage few humans could understand. Lynn demanded nothing less than total conquest. Brooke revealed the underbelly of her conceit to be cruelty. From this moment on, it was a war to the finish.

They approached each other cautiously; two warriors respecting each other while assuming the other's doom. Their bodies, streaked with sweat and electric with savagery, drew ever closer together. Their hands flicked out, slicing the air. Lynn growled an unintelligible threat. Brooke didn't have to understand the words to know the meaning.

A quick kick to Lynn's belly set the action in motion again. Brooke's foot flashed out again and again, landing hard against

Apartment Wrestling

Lynn sinks her cat-like nails into Brooke's face (above), but Brooke rolls her foe off with a hair-pull and ferociously grasps her throat (below). The advantage moved back and forth.

Lynn's belly, back, thighs, and calves. The assault seemed never ending. Lynn sank to her knees, holding her hands in front of her face.

Brooke's next move was to grab Lynn's arms and pull her forward. The brunette fell hard to the carpet, face first. Brooke leaped high, preparing to drop down hard on her victim.

Lynn's next move was perfectly timed. She instantly rolled over and raised her knees. Brooke saw what was coming but could do nothing about it. The back of her thighs smacked right into Lynn's knees. The pain was excruciating.

Brooke bounced off the knees and toppled to the carpet. Lynn was on her in an instant. Grabbing the back of Brooke's hair and the blonde's long leg, Lynn doubled her foe backwards. She held Brooke in this agonizing position for what seemed an eternity. Brooke's eyes widened in terror. She knew what would happen next.

Lynn smashed the blonde's face into the carpet. So her nose wouldn't break, Brooke twisted her head to the left and the right. But this meant tugging her hair caught fast in Lynn's grasp. Both sides of Brooke's head were being mercilessly punished.

Some say it was Brooke's brilliance that did it. Others say Lynn brought it on herself. Whatever the reasons, Brooke's heel made perfect contact with Lynn's temple. The brunette slumped, lost her hold, almost lost consciousness. Brooke rolled away, hoping to get her strength.

Both women hunched in corners, unable or unwilling to move. Their eyes flashed across the distance, trying desperately to see how badly the other was hurt. The room was silent save for their heavy breathing.

Slowly, almost as one, the two Amazons struggled to their feet.

In a sane world, the match would've been stopped there. Instead, these women were captives of their own savage universe. There could be no conclusion of their ordeal without a winner.

Their chests heaving as they gasped for breath, the two women stumbled toward each other. When they were almost in touching distance, they stopped. There was maybe a five-second hesitation, as if they were marshalling reserves for a battle neither was sure they could survive. Some people say there was an unspoken acceptance in that look; combat bringing the women so close as to be within each other's thoughts. They then stepped forward, almost falling into each other's arms, accepting a fate that would make one a conqueror and the other vanquished.

Their combined weights brought them toppling to the carpet. Luck commanded Lynn to hit full on the back. The pain made her body contract wildly, throwing Brooke two feet away. Both women lay motionless for several seconds, then started to move.

It was a grotesque parody of their previously graceful maneuvers. The exquisitely proportioned bodies squirmed and flopped as they crawled toward each other. As if feeding on bloodlust, they crawled more quickly as the space between them diminished. When they met, a cry erupted from them both. Then, locked in battle, they were silent.

Their motions had nothing to do with wrestling, or any kind of sport. Instinct compelled them to writhe and tear with a mindless ferocity. It was clumsy, ugly, and terrifyingly savage. That neither woman even breathed loudly added to its horrifying eeriness.

Somehow, in these wild gyrations of fury, Brooke captured Lynn in a leg scissors. The blonde's thighs squeezed with whatever strength remained in them as the top of Lynn's head could be seen between them. The brunette's lithe body squirmed and writhed in agony. Weakly, her fists beat a hapless tattoo on the blonde's legs.

Then, everything turned around. No one had noticed how agonizing it was for Brooke to keep up the pressure. Her legs began to tremble convulsively and then snapped open.

Lynn rolled free. It took a couple of seconds for the brunette to realize her good fortune. She then looked at her foe. Now Brooke was caged prey; her legs unable to move other than in convulsive trembling. Lynn got to her feet. A horrible smile distorted her features. Then she leaped, her fingers aimed at Brooke's throat.

The talons hit their mark. Brooke was helpless as Lynn mercilessly squeezed. Then Lynn began bashing Brooke's head against the carpet. Lynn finally stopped when Brooke's body lay limp.

Brooke holds onto Lynn's hand and repeatedly stomps the beautiful brunette in the stomach and chest.

Lynn got to her feet, then collapsed to her knees. She crawled to the bedroom, where she lay for 11 hours. When Lynn awoke, her body was so sore she couldn't walk more than 15 feet at a time.

A doctor, one of the spectators, examined Brooke and declared there was nothing to worry about. They carried her to bed, where she was to remain for three days.

As of this writing, neither woman wishes to ever again be an apartment wrestler. ☐

Now! Let This Amazing Witch Book Bring You INFINITE WEALTH, FINE POSSESSIONS, A COMFORTABLE NEW HOME, FINANCIAL SECURITY, LOVE, CONTROL OVER OTHERS, And More—Easily And Automatically!

For centuries, these Witchcraft secrets were hushed up, so that those in power could stay in power! Feudal lords kept their bondsmen as slaves. Factory owners kept their employees in dreaded sweatshops, because these masters knew they must not allow their workers to realize that they need not labor their lives away. Witchcraft was suppressed because it works! Not because of any "evil" in it. If it hadn't worked, no one would have worried about it. If you want to gain power, all you need is this amazing Witch Book!

By using these Witchcraft secrets, you too can change your life and gain health, wealth, someone to love—or anything else—surely, swiftly and automatically!

• THE WITCH'S MONEY JAR!—You'll discover the secret of the Witch's Money Jar, a mysterious jar that fills with money—whenever you want or need it! • THE WITCH'S MONEY MAGNET!—You'll see how to magnetize a dollar bill so that it multiplies! All you need to make your own Witch's Money Magnet is a dollar bill, a green candle, and the words on page 38. Once you do this, your dollar will double and keep doubling! You'll enjoy glittering luxuries, and start living like a millionaire, as Witches do!

• THE WITCH'S BLACK MIRROR!—Just as your TV set has been called your "window on the world," so the Black Mirror is your "window on the psychic world"—the world of the unknown. Making your own personal Black Mirror takes only a few moments and can open the way to unguessed visions. All you need is a bowl of water, some ink, and the chant on page 23. Evelyn, a waitress, was always lending money to friends, and was always broke. Finally, she placed her last dollar on the table, and worked the MONEY MAGNET SPELL over it. All at once, dozens of people who had borrowed money from her, rushed to pay her back!

Hank was perpetually broke. One night he got together with some friends, and they decided to cast the MONEY SPELL. The very next day, Hank received in the mail a check for some $250 worth of insurance. (He had never heard of the company that sent the check, he was not insured with them, and had never even made a claim—but he accepted the money.) Another member of the group that used the spell, a 40-year-old secretary, received an automobile as a gift! All the other members of the group received amazing windfalls of money, as well! You'll see how Dexter, a retiree, lives RENT FREE and receives $200 a week at the age of 78, with a secret you'll find in this Witch Book! You'll see how Claudine, a secretary, was able to wear the finest, most expensive furs—FREE—and spend weekends at an expensive ski lodge in the mountains, where she met a wonderful man! How Ruth L., a widow—with nothing but a small pension, and a little savings—received her dream house, by using a simple 5-minute ritual on page 38 of this book!

Using the same Witchcraft secrets, YOU can achieve peace of mind and freedom from money worries for the rest of your life!

YOU CAN HEAL YOURSELF AS WITCHES DO!

Feeling sick today? Plagued by a lot of troublesome illnesses? Perhaps some relative is sick and constantly demanding your attention? Or perhaps it is even a pet that needs help? With the MAGIC POWER OF WITCHCRAFT, you can cure anything, say authors Gavin and Yvonne Frost. "In our experience... we have not found a single incurable disease!"

• ANDY DISSOLVES A GALLSTONE!—Andy M. developed gallstones. When his illness became too troublesome to ignore, he went to a doctor. Urine tests revealed that he was chronically alkaline. His body was badly out of balance. Using this Witchcraft method to restore balance to the mind and body—in a short while, X-rays showed that he had no more gallstones! Andy never again suffered the excruciating pain of passing stones!

In the same way, say Gavin and Yvonne Frost, almost all illness can be prevented. You are actually employing an ancient Witchcraft method to remove diseased tissue! Even if you do not have any belief in the results, the power will work for you!

One woman, who had been in a wheelchair for 26 years, due to polio and arthritis, used the Witchcraft healing method, and reported that she had no pain and could walk and garden again! A man reported that his son's deep 3rd degree burns miraculously healed overnight!

• SO SIMPLE A CHILD USES IT!—A 4-year-old girl asked if she could try to heal a man who was limping—due to a torn ligament—with this simple Witchcraft healing method. In a matter of moments, she started her chant, laying her hands on the weak ankle. The man was miraculously cured! To skeptics, this should be convincing PROOF that anyone can use it!

AMAZING POWER CAN BE YOURS!

Whether you want infinite wealth, or just a comfortable new home, financial security, fine possessions, love, companionship, new health and vigor, power to control others, secret knowledge, protection from evil, or anything else, the magic power of Witchcraft can bring it to you quickly, easily and automatically! It's the easiest thing in the world!

• HOW TO SEE INTO THE FUTURE!—Would you like to be able to see the future? You CAN with the magic Black Mirror you'll see how to make on page 23. All you need is some ink and a bowl of water. Then use the chant on this page, and you will be able to see many things. One man uses it to read tomorrow's newspaper. YOU can use it to check the stock market or that important horse race!
